I grew up to become the author of 46 books, including the inspiring best seller of all time, the power of positive thought. He was to the motivational speaker on countless platforms: The co-publishing of the world's leading inspirational magazine, GuidePosts; And for 52 years, the beloved shepherd of the collegiate marble church in New York City. Follando his Dr. Peale gained the reputation of dynamic shepherd there that asked her. At University Methodist Methodist In Syracuse, New York, he met and married Ruth Stafford, his life partner for 63 years. They were a perfect compliment: energetic and creative, and she organized and managerial. At the age of 34, Dr. Peale accepted a call to the marble collegiate church. A common sight in his years as a shepherd were tourists lined up around the block to listen to him. With Marble as his base, Dr. Peale launched far-reaching innovations in the 1930s, 1940s and 1950s. In 1933 he began a weekly radio broadcast which continued for a record of 54 years. The year 1938 saw the foundation of the innovative clinic for Christian psychotherapy, religious and health institutes. In 1940 the Peale Center was organized to print and distribute his sermons and in 1945, together with businessman Raymond Thornberg, the magazine Guideposts founded by Peale. In 1984, Peale received the Presidential Medal of Freedom from Ronald Reagan. Dr. Pealedied at his home in Pawling on Christmas Eve 1993. Loading previews, preview is currently not available.
